

THE ONTARIO CLASSICAL ASSOCIATION
INVITES APPLICATIONS FOR THE
HARRY C. MAYNARD SCHOLARSHIPS IN CLASSICS
2017

Through the generosity of the late Harry Maynard, for many years a teacher of Classics at the University of Toronto Schools, a program of scholarship assistance for students of Classics has been inaugurated by the Trustees of Mr. Maynard's estate. By arrangement with the Trustees, the Ontario Classical Association has undertaken to advertise the scholarship program, to receive applications and to assess applicants. Awards will be made by the Trustees on the recommendation of the Association.

The Trustees reserve the right to make no award and to alter or deviate from the stated number and approximate value.

Please note that the Ontario Classical Association will not make any award itself and that there is no set amount for any award; the amounts of the awards vary from one year to the next.

The Harry C. Maynard Scholarship in Classical Studies

One to be awarded.

Approximate Value: In the past, awards have ranged from approximately $2000 - $3500.

Open to an undergraduate student who is attending an Ontario University and proceeding to a first degree in Classics. Preference will be given to applicants studying both Latin and Classical Greek at the Honours level.

The Harry C. Maynard Scholarship for Study Abroad

One to be awarded.

Approximate value: In the past, awards have ranged from approximately $2500 - $4500.

For an undergraduate student attending an Ontario University pursuing a degree in Classics and enrolling in a recognized program of Classical Studies abroad. Said program of study must begin not later than July 1, 2018 and be not less than two weeks nor more than twelve months in duration. Applicants must clearly indicate the nature, date, location and sponsorship of the proposed program. Awards may not be used for unstructured travel. Proof of completion of the program will be required.

The Harry C. Maynard Scholarship for Study Abroad (Secondary)

One to be awarded

Approximate value: In the past, awards have ranged from approximately $1000 - $2000.

For a secondary school student attending an Ontario high school, and currently enrolled in a credit-bearing course in Latin or ancient Greek. The student must be enrolling in a recognized program of Classical studies abroad. The program of study and travel must be of at least seven days duration and be completed by August 31, 2018. Applicants must clearly indicate the nature, date, location and sponsorship of the proposed program and are required to provide an itinerary of the proposed trip. Awards may not be used for unstructured travel. Proof of completion of the program will be required.

Eligibility:

- * All applicants must be currently attending an Ontario University or Ministry-recognized Ontario Secondary School. All applicants must be domiciled in Ontario.
- * All University applicants must provide proof of enrollment in a program leading to a designated degree (Honours or Major) in Classics or Classical Studies as of October 1, 2017.
- * All Secondary students must provide proof of current enrollment in one or more credit courses in Latin or ancient Greek as of October 1, 2017.

- * Previous winners of university Maynard Scholarships are not eligible to reapply. Winners of the Harry C. Maynard Scholarship for Study Abroad (Secondary) may apply for the university scholarships.
- * Successful applicants may be asked to provide their Social Insurance Numbers to the Trustees in order to receive prize money.

Completed applications must be post-dated no later than October 15th, 2017. No application will be considered without the following:

- * a complete, certified transcript of the applicant's academic record;
- * a short essay on the stated topic;
- * supporting letters from at least two people well acquainted with the applicant's work.
- * in the case of scholarships for Study Abroad, a copy of the itinerary / trip outline must be provided.

(Please see the accompanying instructions for details.)

Application Procedure:

Transcripts:

University applicants should have a certified transcript of all courses taken to date mailed from their home institution to the address below, along with official confirmation of their Classics programme (e.g., from the Registrar, Dean). Students in their first year who have not yet completed a course should send an official statement outlining their current program signed by a competent authority (e.g., Registrar, Dean) together with a certified transcript of their high school record.

Secondary school applicants should have a certified transcript of their high school record and a Credit Summary Sheet mailed to the address below, together with a statement outlining their current program signed by a competent school authority.

References:

Letters of recommendation from two people well acquainted with the applicant's academic work, at least one of whom must be a professor or teacher of Latin / Classics, must be sent along with the application and essay directly to the address below. Each recommendation must be in a sealed envelope, signed across the seal.

Essay:

Applicants must enclose with their completed application form a coherent, original essay of between 800 and 1000 words on the following topic (see attached instructions):

"If one does not know to which port one is sailing, no wind is favourable." Lucius Annaeus Seneca

How does the study of Classics help provide a sense of direction, an idea of "to which port one is sailing" in the modern world?

Explain at least two (2) ancient Greek and / or Roman examples (e.g., events, writings, etc.) from which the modern world could benefit in deciding what our goals for the future should be. What / how can we learn from these ancient examples?

You must provide specific references / quotes from ancient sources to support your ideas.
